“ Bradley Cooley was my fiancee. We were together for 7 years, and I'm thankful for every second I got to share with him. He taught me what real love felt like after many abusive relationships before him. I admire and adore this man for numerous reasons, but main one is he saved my life 4x in past 2 months by giving me glucagon injections when I'd had seizure and passed out with low blood sugars (20-30range). He's greatly missed and still very much loved. Looking forward to day God calls me home to be with him again! I love you baby!!!
