“ Oh, grandma....Cody, Amanda, and I practically lived at your house during the summers! If we weren't watching soap operas we were watching John Wayne. Literally, the other day someone asked Cody who our grandpa was and he said as far as I know it was John Wayne. Well maybe now we can find out how many bodies you have down in that well of yours. Will miss watching you play with your little doodlebugs (Kade and Knox). Hope you in a better place now!
