I was lucky enough to have met Linda when I moved next-door to her. My girlfriend and I when we made dinner would make extra to take over to her and visit. She was such a beautiful woman inside and out, and we love listening to her stories, especially the ones about her restaurant. I'm glad I got to see her when her daughters would bring her in to see me at Applebee's. I cherish those moments. I loved her very much she would be greatly missed.
