“ One time, Ray and his son Chris, and Me and my son Justin decided to go on a "float trip" During the first part of the trip, we had a lot of problems with shallow places and had to carry the canoes. After a couple of hours, we finally hit deep water and decided we`d do a little fishing, then decides to "race" the canoes. After awhile Justin and Chris tried to get ahead of us and couldn`t figure out why they couldn`t. In the end we found out that Ray had secretly tied our canoe to the back of Justin and Chris`s canoe. When Ray was asked if he did that, he denied it. Ray said he never lied (but he would tell the truth fifteen different ways.) I will always remember Ray and our good times. “ When Ray was 15, he and our family lived in Highlandville. Ray went to school with an eight year old boy named Dennis, who had terminal cancer. Dennis`s family couldn`t afford a bike, and I told my dad this, and Ray overheard our conversation. Ray went to Dennis`s family and gave Dennis his bicycle. My brother was very unselfish, because we didn`t have much money and were poor also. Till we met again in Heaven, watch out for us
