“ walking through these halls every day... I keep thinking I see you, looking for you, waiting for you. I stand outside by the buses and I swear, I can see you walking up on the bars like the spider monkey you always were... I miss listening to music with you at lunch... I just miss... you... I hope you're ok...

“ My heart reaches out to you all... It's an immense loss for everyone. He was one of my best friends... He was my spider monkey always climbing up stuff... I miss him so much... I can't imagine how things will be once school starts.
