“ I was a classmate of pork's,, we've been friends since grade school,, about 20 years ago he told me he didn't go by pork anymore, so don't call me that,, I said ok pork if I call you pork again let me apologize now pork, I'll try not to call you pork, pork , you know what I mean pork ? , we both laughed like hell

He was sensitive about that in high school, he wanted to be called Pork. I heard a teacher address him as Randy once and he immediately shot back "Don't call me Randy Goddamnit, my name is Pork." I guess things change with time. I didn't know he preferred Randy lately. When I communicated with him on Facebook I called him Pork and he didn't "correct" me..
